

Get informed... Before it's too late

The contract between the Ontario Government and the 42,000 employees of the OPS ends on Dec. 31, 2008. Your bargaining teams are currently negotiating your new collective agreement.

The deadline for these talks is Dec. 23, 2008.

At that time, the teams will either have: a tentative agreement for your next contract; or a final offer from the government on which they will ask for a strike vote.

Now is the time to get informed on what is happening at the bargaining table. You will need this information to make an informed decision after Dec. 23. Here's how to get the information you need:

- Go to www.opseu.org. Click on the OPS Bargaining 2008 Index link at the top of the page and read what is happening with negotiations.
- Send your non-employer e-mail address, name and local number to opseu@opseu.org and you will get updates on progress at the table.

It's your contract...
know what's at stake
