STORIES OF SURVIVAL

Special Exhibition

Extended until October 9

Witness the dedicated efforts of caretakers who successfully raise and release young elephants and orangutans to the wild. Experiment with puppets, costumes and other techniques used to teach young animals essential survival skills. Take a simulated flight on an ultra-light aeroplane to guide young whooping cranes along their first migratory route. Learn the methods used to milk the Lake Sturgeon in order to breed and reintroduce the fish into the Great Lakes. Step into the rescue efforts with people who dedicate their lives to Wildlife Rescue!

*Wildlife Rescue is a production of Science North, Sudbury, Ontario, Canada.
