

RALLY

in support of Homes First workers

Thursday, December 13

5:00 p.m. – 6:30 p.m., Homes First
90 Shuter St. at Jarvis St.

Toronto supportive housing workers at Homes First are in mediation and currently without a contract. After talks broke off the employer hired security guards and low-paid replacement workers in an act of intimidation.

Workers face a wall of 88 concessions:

- eliminate top-up pay for pregnancy / parental leave and EI
- an increase in the hours of work without compensation (amounting to a 6.5 per cent pay cut)
- a rollback of vacation leave to 1995 levels
- a cut in sick leave time by more than 50 per cent

Homes First is funded by the city of Toronto. It's time the city called on Homes First to open their books and give the public the opportunity to add up the numbers.
